

All of us at Columbia Engineering wish you and your loved ones a time of rest, reflection, and peace to share with friends and family.

As we close out 2021, we are grateful for every one of our students, alumni, faculty, staff, friends, and partners around the world. It is our hope and intention that the work of this community will make possible a better future for all.

May the joy of the season be with you as we look forward to a new year and new possibilities.
